

Search for Missing Man Ends Up Being a Prank Phone Call

Friday night at approximately 8:45pm the Owsley County Sheriff Kelly Shouse received a call that Perry County 911 was trying to get in touch with him. He contacted Perry County dispatch and was told that a car had wrecked, overturning in the creek and a man, Benjamine Stillman was trapped inside the car.

They told Sheriff Shouse that Buckhorn Fire Department had been looking for quite a while, but had no luck and had requested their help. Sheriff Shouse rounded up several others to assist: Deputy Justin Wilson, Jesse Bishop, Jr. to which the Perry Co, 911 had called, Jason Jackson – Owsley Co. DES Coordinator, Tonya Jackson, Lewis Barrett, Dustin Gumm, James Thomas and Eric Deery from Owsley County Fire and Rescue and Allens Ambulance Service all traveled the long trip to the Saul area of Whoopfalaria in the farthest boundaries of Owsley County. Deputy Ivan Fletcher, Ed Baker and Jeff Dooley was left at Owsley County to take care of any problems.

The group searched for around five hours, while Deputy Fletcher attempted to reach the Clay County Dispatch to get a phone number for Benjamin Stillman. At approximately 1:30 am, a phone number was retrieved for the alleged victim and was called and Mr. Stillman was at home safely in his bed. The group searched in the cold for five hours from 8:30 pm to 1:30 am because of a prank phone call.

Prank phone calls can be funny, but this call caused a lot of people to be out searching in the freezing cold for a man that was safe and secure in his home. Prank phone calls to law officials are also illegal and in some states are a felony.

Thursday Was a Day for Wrecks!!

18 wrecks reported through the Owsley County Sheriff's Office

Last Thursday Morning's weather proved to be a little tougher that what some people thought it would be according to the wreck count. The Owsley County Sheriff's Office along with the Booneville City Police and Trooper Jesse Armstrong worked 18 wrecks in Owsley County on Thursday morning. The roads were so bad, the Sam Cornett hill on Highway 28 had to be salted by hand because the trucks would not make it up.

The state highway and the KSP were warning people not to be on the roads because of the conditions unless it was absolutely necessary that morning.

The first wreck that the Owsley County Sheriff's Department was dispatched to was on Highway 1938 to a Ford Expedition driven by Kenzie Pendergrass. Pendergrass went over an embankment into the creek.

On Highway 11 South at the mouth of Sally Ridge, Candace Combs' Pontiac Sunfire went into a slide directly into the path of Ed Myers in his Dodge Van causing them to hit head on. This pushed her car into another slide over an embankment. Myers van stopped in the grass on the side of the road. Another car came along and slid out of the road, and didn't suffer any damage.

Shortly after that, Mark Bishop came along and slid his SUV off the road where it landed on its top in the creek across from where Combs wrecked on Highway 11.

Jason Combs wrecked his Saturn on Hwy 30 west overturning it onto its top. Also on Highway 30 west, Con-

ATTENTION: A MESSAGE FROM KRAIG E. HUMBAUGH, M.D., M.P.H. SENIOR DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF THE KENTUCKY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH AND FROM THE KENTUCKY IMMUNIZATION PROGRAM:

Flu activity is increasing nationally and is already high in some states. Additional surges in activity are expected in the coming weeks. The CDC reports that this season's most widely circulating strain, which is covered by the vaccine, is leading to some cases of severe respiratory illness and some fatalities, especially among young and middle aged adults. Kentuckians who have not received a flu vaccination yet this season should get one now, since protection as a result of vaccination takes about 2 weeks to develop. A flu vaccine is the first and best way to protect yourself and the people around you from influenza and its potentially serious complications. Please encourage your patients to get immunized today!

OUTDOOR TRUTHS

by
GARY MILLER

As a young adult, I remember fishing the river bank at Mr. MacDonald's farm. He was an older man whose property ran along the river. I don't remember how we first discovered this place but it seemed to not upset him when we set up camp on his farm. Many of those days he would come by and check on us and tell us a few stories about days gone by. One of his tobacco barns stood only a few yards from where we fished, and it seemed that no matter what time of year it was, he always had a few tobacco plants hanging inside. On occasion he would give us some leaves to take home and twist for a good homemade chew. His recipe was either to cut up a fresh apple and let it marinate the leaves for a few days or to ease that twist of tobacco down into a jar of honey or molasses. This was my favorite.

Alongside that same bank was his boat. It was one like I had never seen before or since. I can only describe it as a flat bottom canoe made of wood. It was long and not very wide or deep. And I can only remember a couple of places to sit down. Now I'm sure he had landed a few fish from this boat in times past, but now the boat was used for occasional transportation. When the weather was good and the creek didn't rise, each Sunday, Mr. MacDonald would take his long homemade oar and get in his homemade boat and traverse the small river to the church he attended downstream. I'm sure he had other ways of getting there, but the boat was his preferred means. Now as a younger fellow I never asked him why he did that. I wished I had. But as an older man I can imagine the reasons. I use to think this short journey must have prepared him for worship. I later understood this was his time of worship. I can imagine the sights he must have enjoyed as he prepared to meet with fellow believers. I can imagine how he must have been awestruck by the picture of God as painted by creation. I can imagine how the voices of each animal became God's unique choir as they were sung in unison.

The biblical David must have taken that same trip, when he sung the words, "The heavens declare the glory of God!" It's true. And even though that boat is perhaps rotted and ruined, the sights and sounds that declare the Glory of God are still there for us if we'll put ourselves in the place to see and hear them.

2014 Regular Session of the Kentucky General Assembly Starts Work Today Drafting a new budget for Commonwealth main focus of 60-day session

With the drop of the gavel in the Kentucky House of Representatives, the 2014 Regular Session of the Kentucky General Assembly began today in Frankfort. The primary focus of this year’s legislative session, which will run 60 days, will be to pass a new two-year budget for the Commonwealth. “While we do expect to see a slight increase in our general fund revenues, the next budget will be another tight one for Kentucky,” said Rep. Toby Herald, R-Beattyville (91st District). “It is my hope that we can work in a bipartisan manner in both the House and Senate to pass a new budget that can fund our essential needs like education.”

Other issues expected to be debated during the upcoming session are bills related to Kentucky’s public pension system, industrial hemp, a statewide smoking ban, and limiting the power of the Executive Branch from using executive orders to allocate millions of dollars in taxpayer funds without legislative oversight.

For more information on the 2014 session, go to www.lrc.ky.gov. To leave a message for your legislator, call the legislative message line toll free at 1-800-372-7181. To check the status of a bill during the 2014 session, call 1-866-840-2835. And to check on the schedule of committee meetings, call 1-800-633-9650, or click on the ‘Meeting Schedule & Visitor Info’ link on the main page of the LRC website.

AG DEPARTMENT'S POSTER AND ESSAY CONTEST OPENS CATEGORY FOR DIGITAL PHOTOS AND ART

The Kentucky Department of Agriculture's Poster and Essay Contest will add a category for digital submissions this year along with the traditional poster and essay competitions.

The theme of this year's contest is "Kentucky Farmers — Our American Heroes."

"Kentucky farmers raise animals and plants that feed, clothe, and shelter us. But some of them also served in the military to protect our country," Agriculture Commissioner James Comer said. "I look forward to seeing how Kentucky's young people express themselves on how farmers are their heroes."

The digital category will accept photos, including those modified using Photoshop, and original digital artwork. The new category will be open to all Kentucky students, kindergarten through grade 12, and will present awards for the first-, second-, and third-place entries statewide. Entries must be submitted in printed form, accompanied by the high-resolution file in JPEG, PDF, or PNG formats.

The poster and essay contests also are open to students in kindergarten through grade 12. Statewide winners will be selected in each grade.

Each winner will receive $100 and will be recognized at the Kentucky and/or shelter programs, and 5) if they are a private voluntary organization, they must have a voluntary board.

Owsley County has distributed Emergency Food and Shelter funds previously. These agencies were responsible for providing meals, shelter and utilities.

Public or private voluntary agencies interested in applying for Emergency Food and Shelter Program funds must contact Darrell R. Shouse — 1-606-666-2452 for an application. The deadline for applications is one week from date of advertisement.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

In 1992 the Circuit Clerks of Kentucky recognized the tragedy of 18 people dying everyday waiting for an organ transplant yet Kentuckians were not aware of what they could do to save lives. The Association of Circuit Court Clerks supported legislation that would allow every person obtaining a Kentucky drivers license or identification card an opportunity to donate $1.00 to raise awareness about organ donation in Kentucky. These $1.00 donations go into a Trust-the Kentucky Circuit Court Clerks Trust For Life.

Since that time more than $8 million dollars have been raised, one dollar at a time, to increase awareness about organ donation. That money is used to make the public aware that more than 900 adults and children in Kentucky are waiting for a life saving transplant; that over 120,000 people in the United States are on the waiting list; that 18 people die every day waiting for an organ transplant. It helps to provide information to the public like the oldest organ donor in Kentucky was 84 years old and she saved 3 lives. Each dollar donated helps save lives.

Your $1.00 donation adds up. In fact they are added each month by the Trust For Life and a report is generated showing the percentage of people who donated. In November 2013, out of 72 Owsley Countians who were issued a drivers license or identification card, 55 donated $1.00. Owsley County had the second highest percentage in the Commonwealth consisting of 120 counties. We may be a small county but what we lack in quantity we more than make up in quality. Thank you Owsley County. Once again your generosity comes shining through.

Mike Mays,
Your Owsley County
Circuit Court Clerk.
